Moscow not fazed by Trump's harsh rhetoric – Kremlin

Russia is well aware that it is the US president's style, spokesman Dmitry Peskov has said

Russia takes the harsh recent rhetoric by US President Donald Trump calmly and intends to continue dialogue with Washington, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov has said.

Trump told journalists on Tuesday that he was "unhappy" with his Russian counterpart, Vladimir Putin, accusing him of not wanting to settle the Ukraine conflict. *"We get a lot of bullsh*t thrown at us by Putin,"* the US president claimed. Referring to their phone calls, the latest of which took place last week, Trump said Putin "is very nice all the time, but it turns out to be meaningless" in terms of ending the

When asked about Trump's latest comments on Wednesday, Peskov replied that "we treat them quite calmly."

The US president's "style, generally, is quite harsh in terms of the phrases that he uses," he added.

The spokesman expressed hope that despite the US president's recent statements, "Trump and his team will continue their efforts to shift the process of the Ukrainian settlement into... a diplomatic field."

Moscow is waiting for a response from Kiev to its proposal on holding a third round of bilateral talks in Istanbul, Peskov added. "This should be in the interests of the Ukrainian side because the situation on the ground changes daily. We are moving forward," he explained.

Peskov also commented on the audio released by CNN on Tuesday, which allegedly captures Trump telling donors in 2024 that he had once threatened Putin that he would *"bomb the sh*t out of Moscow"* if Russia attacked Ukraine.

"We are calm about this. We are committed to continuing our dialogue with Washington and our policy of repairing the significantly damaged bilateral relations," the spokesman noted.

Peskov stressed that Trump's other comment, in which he acknowledged that settling the Ukraine conflict "turned out to be tougher" than he thought, was much more "important."

Trump's constant and continuing fluctuating/irregular/inconsistent statements on issues, is proof he is clueless, and without any plan whatsoever. His head is swollen to the size of the moon. Egotistical, arrogance, pompous, does not begin to describe Trump. If it were not for the U.S. military and it's dwindling stockpile, it would be best just to ignore Trump as a raving lunatic or mad man. I can imagine A.I. being employed on a call from Trump, all it would have to say is uh-hu, uh-hu, for the duration, then finish with a «thank you for the call, have a great day». Best use for A.I.

Despite the calls for a quick and decisive end by Russia, the best thing I could think of is to minimize Russia's losses and continue the slow grinding destruction of the West's weapons. The West's economies are not strong and their stupid and unwavering continuation of putting tens and hundreds of billions of dollars in the losing effort in Ukraine will ultimately end in the collapse of the West. Best end to the conflict and a prolong period of peace.

Truthfully, if I were in Russian President position I would of nuked the US already. Especially after his last attack on Putin last week by saying he is mad and then quickly changing it as they realised it didn't work.

Dealing with lying WEAKLINGS Mr Putin. WEAKLINGS with nukes yes, that's why I want to go Pentagon. _End this shit. That's exactly what it is. Smiles and shit. This dancing genocide smiling Jew shit has to go. They will exterminate us all. Now every world leader is a chemical genocidalist because of them.

Seems US and Allies are psychotic Middle Eastern Cults now chemically executing white and black people.

Guess who is on top? Trump AND Biden SHITHEADS

1 Question Dear Stupid Americans.

Why do you think we get chemically executed by our own doctors and they don't even get a speeding ticket? FAUCI gets away with genocide and yet the prisons are filled with Black people.

Most people can see that Trump is basically honest but acts like a petulant child and is being controlled by evil power-crazy zionist 'parents'. He knows they are corrupt and untrustworthy and he knows his relatives in Europe are even worse and so he struggles to rebel against them. His loyal friends in Moscow understand and reassure him.

Further talks are pointless imo. Neither Zelensky and his handlers want peace unless it means the total capitulation of Russia, and Russia doesn't want peace unless it means the total capitulation of Ukraine and their handlers. So this isn't going to end in the foreseeable future, imo. RU is calculating for an attritional win and Putin tried to play Trump as the useful idiot to that end. But after Putin's statements on the US SMO in Iran, Trump saw thru the BS and now an increase in attrition on the RU side will be the likely result. jmo of course.

I hope Russia throws that European sentiments down the drain.

Europe sees Zionists more favorable than to Russia, and sees Russia as illegitimate child of Europe.

Until Russia doesnt understand that, its going to suffer.

Only way out is Quad (Russia, China, North Korea and Iran) friendship and Military and technology co-operation. This is an era of Technology export and dominance and Quad should work together.

- North Korea – Eastern Front
- Iran (Middle East Cooperation) – Middle Eastern Front
- Russia (Euresian Alliance)– North Atlantic and Euresia,
- China (South Asian Alliance) – South Asian Front

Economically, BRICS is always there.

Each quad member should support regional allies economically and Militarily from Zio-Nazi west, world has seen enough of child killers, its time to save humanity.

The US seems to believe it can provoke conflicts and withdraw without addressing underlying issues, as seen in Afghanistan. No, Russia's approach aims to tackle root causes, promoting lasting peace for everyone – a prospect the US appears keen to avoid and calling it Russia – Ukrainian war!

Actually, not true. The Bretton Wood agreement after WW II created the US as the Global Hegemony and President Trump is the President of the US. President Trump needs to mature a bit and accept (even embrace) the new Multi-Polar World. I don't think he's capable of doing that. I'm hopeful JD Vance will do that when he's elected. Multi-Polar World has many advantages over the Global Hegemony, even for the Hegemony Power.
