A total of 60 Ukrainian fixed-wing kamikaze drones were intercepted by Russian air defenses over six regions on Sunday evening, the Defense Ministry has estimated.

In recent weeks, the Ukrainian military has intensified its UAV attacks on Russian territory. Moscow has consistently characterized them as "terrorist attacks," targeting critical infrastructure, manufacturing facilities, and residential areas.

Russia has retaliated with a long-range strike campaign of its own, focusing on dual-use infrastructure, including power grid facilities, and military sites in Ukraine. Moscow

In a statement late on Sunday, the Russian Defense Ministry said that between 6PM and 8PM Moscow time, 33 drones were downed over Bryansk Region, 14 over Smolensk Region, seven over Novgorod Region, three over Leningrad Region, two over Tver Region and one over Kursk Region.

Earlier in the day, Bryansk Region Governor Aleksandr Bogomaz reported on his Telegram channel that a man had been injured after a Ukrainian drone struck an agricultural facility there.

He later said that dozens more UAVs had been destroyed over the Russian region that shares a border with Ukraine. The attacks resulted in no additional casualties or material damage, according to Bogomaz.

On Saturday, the Defense Ministry stated that 337 Ukrainian fixed-wing kamikaze drones had been intercepted over multiple Russian regions.

On Monday, Moscow Mayor Sergey Sobyenin wrote on his Telegram channel that around 250 Ukrainian drones had been downed by air defenses while approaching the Russian capital over the weekend. The attacks forced temporary flight suspensions at Domodedovo, Sheremetyevo, Vnukovo, and Zhukovsky airports, with traffic restored by Monday morning.

Russia war strategy is weak, thanks to Putin, who is preventing the army a decisive victory. We who supported the SMO are fed up with him, He can choose to fight for 20 years and kill his citizens. One day he will answer.

Who's going to do it though? Not Russia. Russia can't even beat Zelensky. Just letting them slowly harm and kill Russians while Putin writes letters.

A minimum 4 hrs ride from Ukraine
And you catch them ...in Russia?
Kinda strange ...and ineffective wouldn't you say ?
Them drones are like Boko Haram
They just pop up
So either your radars are crap
Or it suits the needs of someone to let them come this close before blowing them up.
4 hrs.....think about it.

Some Russians must have that craving to be beat around. Like some women. They just need beat every so often or they get get crazy. Thinking some top Russians are that way. Maybe it makes them feel connected to the past or idk maybe like they're guilty of living high on th hog and it helps them not feel guilty. With men it's usually the homosexuality. I've heard some of them really need abused just to keep sane. That's really sick.

Russia loves to not even try. Why not just give your country to the west now and at least stop having your citizens killed for no reason. Imagine being that "powerful" and you don't even stop Ukraine. Why does Putin allow every country in this world to walk all over Russia?
