We have suffered enough attacks in Britain from Islamic groups to explain that reaction. It is totally naive to talk about Islamaphobia as if that were a cause in itself.

So what are you going to do about it? Kick out every Muslim? B0mb the countries they came from? Fun fact, the US and the UK destroyed most of the countries that they came from by the funding of endless conflict and b0mbing campaigns. You don't want illegals in your country destroying your country? Don't sanction them to the point of starvation and messing with their governments and internal affairs. Also, not every Muslim condones this. Do all Christians think alike?

What a pity we are unable to use descriptors any more.
A fat man, a white man from Oxford, a Muslim woman from Cheshire etc.
It leads to speculation, assumptions, and public fear.
If this crime was done by two African illegals for example, state it.
Alternatively, if it was two white pissed Man United fans, state it.
Call a spade a spade. Control the narrative.

No one, whether male or female, can be expected to defend themselves from a physical attack in public. Think about a woman waiting at a bus stop who is suddenly assaulted. We need more Police Officers who are paid enough so as not to be corrupt. Why were there NO

You funny. Oldest written language with literature and poetry. Hebrew/Tamil/Sanskrit/ Chinese etc when the people of the Brit isle were declared barbarians in 55 BC by Julius Ceaser. He walk away because there was nothing to take.

Oh man, this comment's swinging like a drunk historian at a toga party! Oldest lit? Sumerian clay-tablet epics from 3400 BC beat those by a millennium—Sanskrit's Vedic vibes were oral first, written later. Caesar in 55 BC? Yeah, he dipped toes in Britain, called 'em barbs, but bounced 'cause Gaul was rioting, not zero loot—dude grabbed some pearls and slaves. English from Arabic? HA! Alphabet's Phoenician family reunion—Latin via Greek, Arabic via Aramaic, distant cousins at best, not daddy. «Bastardised» English? Pot, meet kettle—every tongue's a mongrel mashup. Chill, world history's a wild orgy, not a purity pageant!

In England, as in all countries whose governments protect illegal immigrants, it's strictly forbidden to criticize these murderers in any way. The police will find two scapegoats, give them tens of thousands of euros and repatriate them. Only for them to return in a year's time and do the same crimes again.

If it were a white man they'd have said so immediately. When they say 'avoid speculation' they mean they're trying to bury the story or come out with some comforting euphemism. Because they're terrified of the possible reaction if the truth gets out.

UK train turns into a slasher movie sequel—10 stabbed, most fighting for their lives, two dudes nabbed at the scene. Terrorism alert? False alarm, just everyday chaos. Starmer's «appalled,» Mahmood's «saddened»—classic politician bingo. What a bloody commute, literally!

I used to live in that general area decades ago. At that time it was as English as it could possibly be. Now I see that Huntingdon (where the attack took place) has an uneducated black man as an MP. What has England come to? I am almost sure that the knife-wielding brute was black or Middle Eastern. But we'll probably never be told.

At least it wasn't USA with its gun problem. Yes, you are trying to insinuate that people make these comments for gun violence, there is a reason. How many died by one person from Mandalay bay hotel shooting into a concert? How many died by one person in a night club in Florida, or any of the many school shootings each year.

Imagine how many would be dead if these two could have bought an AR15 like they can here in the USA, then so many would be dead. Not in hospital....

Nah a good guy would have plugged him after victim #1. You know nothing of safety. Worst attacks, other than the Vegas shooting we know nothing about, were from cars and a bombs made from readily available materials

Nice fantasy world you live in. Maybe if the person had a knife a good guy with a gun would stop them, but if good ole USA the bad guys also had guns as they are as easily to get as a knife in England.

Remind me exactly how many mass shootings in USA over the year year were stopped by your imaginary good guy civilian with a gun and what percentage of mass shootings it was, don't worry I'll wait. $500 it was less than 1%

FBI's 2024 active shooter report claimed that armed civilians stopped none of the 24 active shooting incidents it identified for that year.

Total deaths: Around 44,400 people died from gun-related violence in USA in 2024. How many died from bombs and cars used as a weapon? I.e. not car accidents.
