The Hamas militant group has four days to accept US President Donald Trump's 20-point Gaza peace plan.

Unveiled by the White House during Trump's meeting with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu on Monday, the plan calls for an immediate ceasefire, a hostages-for-prisoners exchange, a phased Israeli withdrawal, and a transitional international administration. It also envisions Gaza as a “deradicalized, terror-free zone,” where Hamas is excluded from governance.

Responding to a reporter’s question about how much time Hamas has to respond, Trump said, “we’re gonna do about three or four days,” adding the group had “not much” room to negotiate. “Hamas is either going to be doing it or it’s not, and if it’s not, it’s going to be a sad end,” he said.

Later, in a War Department address at Marine Corps Base Quantico, he added: “We have one signature that we need, and that signature will pay in hell if they don’t sign.”

If Hamas rejects the plan or violates it, Israel will have his “full backing,” he said.

Netanyahu, who has endorsed the proposal, warned that Israel would “finish the job” of eradicating Hamas if the group refuses.

Hamas was not part of the negotiations that produced the plan, which requires the group to disarm – a demand it has long rejected along with any proposals that exclude Palestinian self-determination.

Mediators Qatar and Egypt shared Trump’s plan with the militant group late on Monday, and officials close to the talks told media they pledged to review it “in good faith.” A formal response is still pending.

(PA), which governs the West Bank, welcomed the plan, calling it a “sincere and determined effort” to achieve peace in Gaza. Under the proposal, the PA would assume control of Gaza once the conflict ends and reforms required by the deal are implemented.

Speaking of hell huh?? 😏😏
It ardently awaits the likes of Trump and his accomplices. Then, they'll come to know whose «signature» ultimately lasts beyond space and time.

And Trump is promising a «sad end» for Hamas unless it complies. What kind of hell will he visit upon Israel if it doesn't comply? BB's already making noises to that effect.

No Arab/Muslim majority states backed the plan. Netanyahu has already altered the wording, they aren't pulling out.

Trump is backing the takeover of Palestine.

No they haven't. They have supported the «sincere effort» of Trump to «find a path to peace.» Not the plan itself.
