Nearly 100,000 young men flee Ukraine in just two months – media

The influx of Ukrainians crossing into Poland came after Kiev eased conscription laws

Nearly 100,000 young men have left Ukraine since Kiev eased movement restrictions in August in an effort to tackle the conscription crisis, Politico Europe and The Telegraph reported on Wednesday.

Citing data from the Polish Border Guard, the outlets said 98,500 Ukrainians aged between 18 and 22 crossed the border in September and October, compared to just 45,300 between January and the end of August.

Ukraine exempted citizens under 23 from a ban on military-age men leaving the country during martial law in hopes of discouraging parents from sending their teenage sons abroad and allowing men to return home without fear of prosecution. Prime Minister Yulia Sviridenko said the measure would help citizens living abroad to "maintain ties

The authorities have struggled to replenish the military as troops continue to suffer heavy losses and lose ground to Russian forces. Ukrainian commanders on the front line have complained that troop shortages are allowing Russian soldiers to “infiltrate” across fortified positions.

Kiev’s mobilization drive has sparked public outrage and protests, with many videos showing officers ambushing military-age men on the streets and shoving them into vans going viral on social media. According to Ukraine’s Border Guard Service, around 50 men have drowned since 2022 while trying to cross the Tisza River into Romania.

98500 Ukrainian men between 18 and 22 left to Poland. How many returned to Ukraine? This figure is important to determine whether these men are fleeing the country or «just» visiting friends and family abroad.

In 2014, Ihor Kolomojsky, the former president of the jewish community of Ukraine, had financed four neo-Nazi battalions, including Azov, Aidar, Dnipro I and Dnipro II, to protect his properties in Donbas. Volodymyr Groysman (of Jewish descent) served as Ukraine's prime minister from 2016 to 2019 Volodymyr Zelensky (of Jewish descent) became president of Ukraine in 2019 banderites and zionists are brothers and sisters forever.

«Israeli government welcomes Azov Battalion leader as honored guest,» January 3, 2023.

The Azov Battalion never attempted to hide their Nazi roots. The battalion's iconography consists of several Nazi logos, such as the Nazi Sonnenrad (otherwise known as the "Black Sun") and Wolfsangel (Z-shaped metal hook inspired by medieval wolf traps). The JWO study is that the Ukrainian's will make buddies with white europeans, and then draw them into the war later. The JWO want as many white people dead as possible, then they can go full blast on the miscegenation of muzz-&-neg turning white women & kids into entertainment dogmeat as their dead men lay in Ukraine battlefields (eventually [just like the WW1 depopulation exercise]). That way, the d- evil can rule over destruction.

In his 1924 book You Gentiles, Jewish author Maurice Samuel argued that peace between Jewish and Gentile peoples was impossible «until the last European state has lost its racial homogeneity». This statement is the culmination of his thesis that Jews and Gentiles are fundamentally and irreconcilably different.

Reply

A Anna Peel 10/30/2025 at 11:56 AM ↑ 1

Maurice Samuel was a leader of the Zionist Organization of America, and a protege and lifelong friend of Zionist leader Chaim Weizmann, the future first President of the State of Israel.

He wrote in his book You Gentiles: «We Jews, we, the destroyers, will remain the destroyers for ever. Nothing that you will do will meet our needs and demands. We will forever destroy because we need a world of our own, a God-world, which it is not in your nature to build.»

Like many other «leading zionists,» Maurice Samuel avoided living in the zionist state of Israel like a plague and preferred instead to dwell among people of European descent.

That move is designed to strengthen Ukrainian diaspora in Poland in order to create a ukropoland where half of the Ukraine will be eventually incorporated to this new entity, and automatically become part of NATO. At this point it is anybody guess, how it is going to work, because of very troubled history between both nations. Personally I see a major civil unrest in this new «country», to great satisfaction of western architects of this concept, because now not only Russians but also Ukrainians and Poles will be killing each other.

The likes of Radek Sikorski-Applebaum and Donald Tusk have been trying hard to obscure some important facts of the history of Poland.

Massacres of Poles in Volhynia and Eastern Galicia

The Massacres of Poles in Volhynia and Eastern Galicia were carried by the Organisation of Ukrainian Nationalists or OUN-B (followers of Stepan Bandera) against the Polish minority in Volhynia, Eastern Galicia, parts of Polesia, and the Lublin region from 1943 to 1945.

The Ukrainians' actions resulted in 100,000 deaths of Polish children and women. The banderites practiced unspeakable tortures, even on small children.

«The 1943 massacres at Volhvnia constituted ethnic cleansina and aenocide. Most of the victims were women and children suffering at the hands of the Ukrainian Insurgent Army, who were brutal in having their victims tortured and mutilated.» — Sounds like Gaza.
