MOLDOVA'S ELECTION MARRED BY FRAUD – LAVROV

UK records unprecedented migrant boat arrival

125 people crossed from France on a single small vessel over the weekend

A small boat carrying 125 people crossed the English Channel from France to the UK on Saturday, the largest number ever recorded on a single vessel, Bloomberg has reported, citing the Home Office.

The previous record was set in August, when 107 people arrived on what the British media described as a “mega-dinghy.”

The latest crossing comes despite Prime Minister Keir Starmer’s pledge to “smash” the smuggling gangs behind the journeys. It also follows the appointment of new Home Secretary Shabana Mahmood, who has called small boat crossings “utterly unacceptable” and promised to “explore all options” to address the issue.

Moldovan parliamentary election results announced

Official figures show that around 33,000 people have crossed into the UK since the start of the year, the highest total for this point in the year since records began in 2018, according to The Independent.

Public discontent over illegal migration has grown sharply in Britain, with polls showing it among voters' top concerns. Many see the rising number of crossings as evidence the government has lost control of the borders, while communities voice frustration over pressures on housing, health services, and schools. The discontent has boosted support for Nigel Farage's Reform UK party, which has made hardline immigration its central message. A recent YouGov poll put Reform in the lead with 29%, ahead of Labour on 21%.

Labour has pledged to target people-smuggling networks while keeping legal migration routes, framing its approach as a balance of security and humanitarian obligations. In August, the UK and France ratified a treaty which states that migrants deemed inadmissible after arriving in Britain can be returned to France, while the UK accepts an equal number of asylum seekers via a legal route. The first removals under the scheme took place earlier this month.

The Reform party advocates abolishing Indefinite Leave to Remain, forcing settled migrants to reapply under stricter conditions, and limiting welfare benefits to British citizens.

In an interview on Sunday, Starmer called Farage's proposals "racist" and "immoral," though he admitted many drawn to Reform are frustrated by the slow pace of change.

Unfortunately, those who have been and still are profiting the most, will not give back or pay anything.
Nor will they be held accountable for the crimes.
The root causing «elites» must be identified and targeted.

Simply remove all so-called asylum laws. Deport the majority. The word will get out and they will stop coming. You don't think the third world invaders didn't want to invade in seventies and eighties? Of course but it would not have been tolerated!

Absolutely genius. Kiers Starmer, the smart man that he is, hires an Arab or Muslim or minority to stop Arabs and Muslims and third world minorities from entering his country. It's like hiring a foreign spy to stop foreign spies. Europe like America is done, well done, cooked to a crispy burned char. Impending disaster is all that remains for the entire world and the world can thank the leftist globalists for all of it.

Not enough Refugees are coming in, a lot more need to come.....the number of countries these British criminals have invaded, plundered, murdered, raped, ruined, and utterly destroyed and carried all stolen loot back to this miserable rat of an island, their mesums are full of artifacts that belong to others, as if these criminals have nothing to show for themselves. These numbers of refugees are nothing, did these British invaders think they were living on another planet and that their crimes would not bounce back..its called Karma..did they not believe in their own words....There are no free Lunch's.....here; have your lunch and eat it to.

- (1) The EU+UK need to expel these illegal immigrants, dysfunctional refugees, & incompatible immigrants.
- (2) The EU+UK need to stop its foreign policies that economically exploit & destabilize other nations, because these foreign policies create a lot more refugees & immigrants.

However, the EU+UK are led by people who are addicted to imperialism, but imperialism is facing increasing resistance throughout the planet.

Really 125 that is a major invasion – never mind the legal migrants of 750,000 from India Alone who then bring their dependants. The coverage of these wretches from war torn zones created by Blair and Starmer are a disgrace. Give them hope, life and freedom.

- France and the EU have triggered the emigration wave from Africa and the middle east thanks to their greedy destruction of Iraq and Libya. Blair, Sarkozy, Bush are the fathers of illegal immigrants after having cause the murders of thousands non Europeans..

- The faces of the current home secretary and Conservative leader will do more to encourage immigration than anything they do in policy. The immigrants see themselves in power positions—of course they will come. Not to mention all the UK's problems come from legal immigration. The Pakistani grooming gangs were legally in the country.

- Labour appears basically powerless to halt these invasions of the U.K. with Starmer's government issuing meaningless statements regarding the situation. Meanwhile the government apparently has made yet another «agreement» with France to have invaders returned to France, where they can again launch more loaded boats to cross the channel and engage in repeat performances.

Labor lies to your face, then pretends like it can't stop this illegal invasion. If they really wanted it to stop, the gov could even torpedo the boats and kill everything on board. And then after a few of those, they would stop invading by boat any more.

The West creates most of these migrants with their war criminality and economic terrorism against other nations and then complains about the influx. Not to mention with what we spend on stopping and imprisoning these migrants we could have bought each and every migrant two nice sized brand new houses to live in.

Europeans gave to them civilization (universities, laws, order etc.) and technology (cars, cellphones, hospitals, roads etc.).

These immigrants come from eternal s.h.i.t.h..o.l.e.s.

Without Europeans, they would be in the stone age.
